Providing Quality People

Farewell Victoria, Hello Monument!

After 26 years, Catch 22's London operations are moving from the hustle and bustle of Victoria, the capital's busiest terminus, to the heart of the City. Gradual changes to the way the recruitment industry operates have meant that a high street shop front is now not essential for sourcing the excellent temporary staff that we supply.

Our new premises in Botolph Lane offer the chance to update working practices and will put us within easier reach of some of our largest clients. We will be installed in our new offices from 14th September, along with our partner company, Prisma Recruitment, integrating the services of two respected operators in the FM, property, architecture and moves management fields.

Given our expertise in the field, it's no surprise that the move is being handled internally, co-ordinated by Vince Parker, MD of Catch 22, and Tim Loftus, owner of Prisma. Essential fit-out works, including partitioning, cabling for IT and telecoms, have been completed on time and all looks set fair for a smooth transition.

Vince remarks "there'll be a twinge of sadness leaving what has been our home for such a long time - I wish I had a pound for every time I've been asked the way to Buckingham Palace! However, we need to embrace modern ways of working and our new offices are ideal for creating a new dynamic amongst our staff and Prisma. We're going to be closer to many more clients and will be able to service their requirements even better."

Although Catch 22's address has changed, our phone and fax numbers remain the same as do our email and web addresses, so you can contact us as normal.

BIFM Chair Hits The Road For Charity

Chair of the BIFM, Ian Broadbent, takes on a gruelling test of endurance on behalf of Macmillan Cancer Care, starting in Harrogate on October 7th.

Ian will be accompanied by Dave Walker, head of FM at Northumbria Water and regular FM World diarist. Together, they will be walking, running, biking and canoeing from Harrogate to London, all 233 miles of it!

Ian and Dave hope to reach London in time to attend the BIFM Awards Dinner at the Grosvenor House on Monday 10th October. They will be supported along the way by Catch 22's Simon Aspinall.

Macmillan do phenomenal work supporting those whose lives are affected by cancer and you can help them in their quest by sponsoring Ian at this link:

Catch 22 applauds Ian and Dave for their magnificent efforts and looks forward to seeing them safe, if weary, at the Awards Dinner.

Need AWR Advice? Need To Move?

If you are a regular user of agency workers then you need to be aware of the arrival of the Agency Workers Regulations in October. These new regulations introduce the right to equal treatment in terms of pay, holiday entitlement and a number of other issues.

Don't get caught out unprepared, Catch 22 can supply the help and advice you need to minimize the impact of the AWR. If you don't have the in-house HR expertise, why not give us a call for a session of practical and impartial advice? Whether you're currently a client or just need a helping hand, please call either Simon Aspinall (0113 242 8055) or Don Searle (020 7821 1134).

Catch 22's Van and Man service is ideal for those small office moves or for clearing unwanted furniture, IT equipment or other waste. Friendly drivers and porters are backed up by a full move management service and attention to detail. Hire by the hour or by the job, there's a value for money option whatever the task in hand. For details, just give us a call.

Catch 22 organise 11th BIFM National Golf Finals

The victorious Scotland Region Members Team that swept the board in 2010

Once again, Catch 22 is proud to be organising BIFM's only national sporting event, the 11th National Golf Finals, taking place on September 15th at Forest Pines GC in North Lincolnshire. Sponsored by HSS Hire, Not Just Cleaning and Interfaceflor, the event attracts the cream of the industry's golfers.

Members and Corporate teams from eight of the BIFM Regions have qualified to compete for the title of overall winners in what has become a prestigious event in the golfing calendar.

Competitors will be entertained by David Edwards and his incredible magic golf display before the tee-off then regaled at dinner by the inimitable Duncan Mackenzie, footballer, journalist and renowned speaker.

We'll feature the results of the day in our next NewsCatcher.
